Immediate success guaranteed!

What do you personally gain from this?

This qualification will clearly show you whether a technical trade involving wood will make you happy in the long term:

- You will learn a lot about different methods of woodworking, wood construction and wood surface treatment
- You will gain practical experience that will not only help you in your future work, but also in everyday life
- You prepare specifically for a qualification for exciting professions in woodworking

This qualification is suitable for both theorists and practitioners. You will always learn something new and improve your skills.

Your qualification as a participant

Woodworking, calculating constructions and operating tools are activities that can only be partially learnt and practised online. With this qualification, you will gain experience in a short space of time that would otherwise require a longer period of training in a specialised company. After this programme, you will know more precisely which tasks you are particularly good at, where you need to learn more and why professions involving wood have a future.

How you can take part
